

OFFICIUM SPECIAL SITUATIONS FUND

This month volatility was prevalent in the Australian and global share markets with the Australian share market falling for three weeks in August, and then changed direction swiftly at to be positive by the end of the month. The Officium Special Situations Fund was not immune to the extreme movements in the market, returning -2.64% for the month. Whilst the Fund's performance suffered this month, the lower prices across the share market in August allowed the Fund to further add to current holdings at discounted prices.

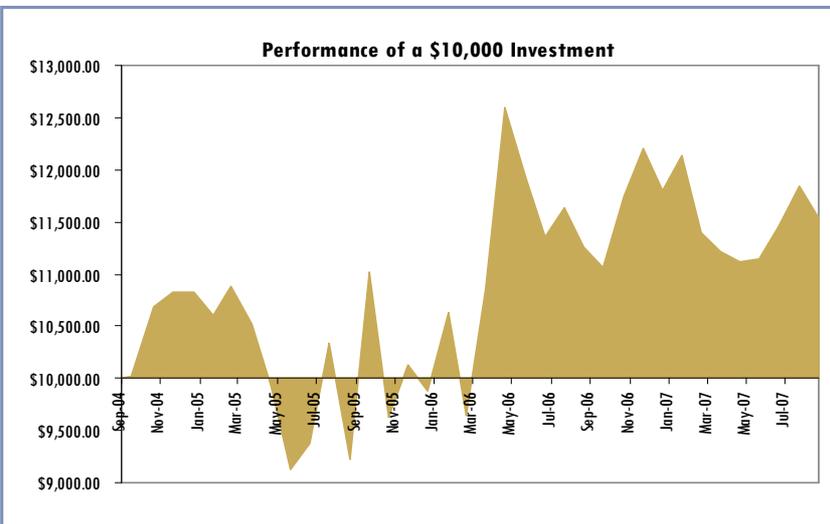

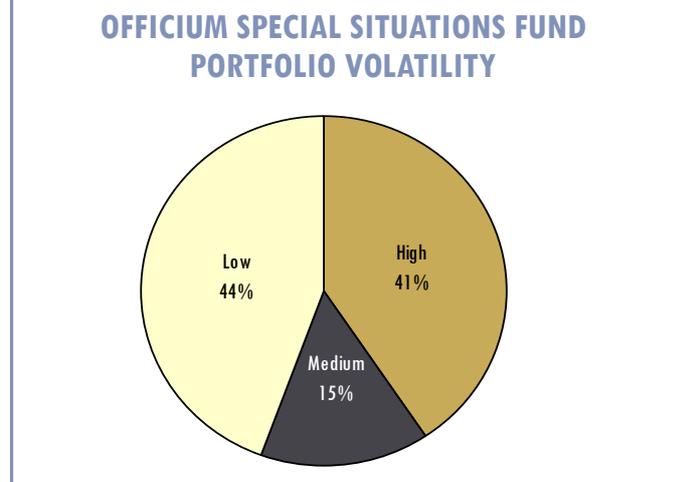

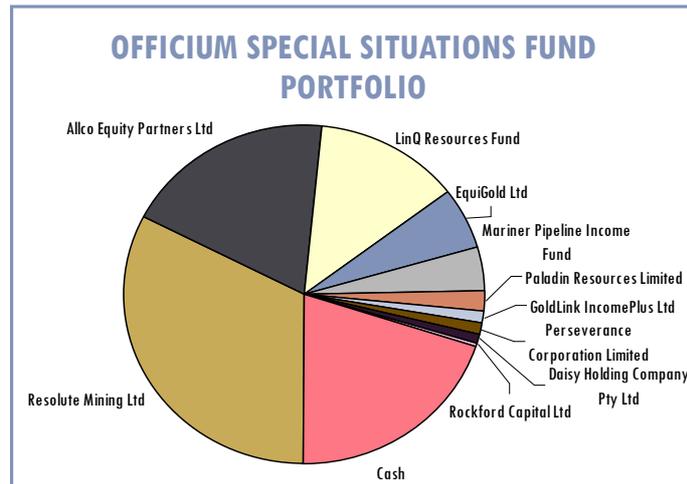

Particularly the Fund was able to purchase Resolute Mining Limited at $1.25 per share, increasing the Fund's holding to 13.5 million shares. Likewise the Fund purchased LinQ Resources Fund when it fell to $1.10 during August, increasing the weighting to 12.96%. During the month LinQ also announced its end of Financial Year results which included a 271% increase in profit and LinQ's net tangible assets backing of $1.78 per share.

Officium recently met with the CEO and CFO of Allco Equity Partners Limited, reporting that both underlying businesses of Allco are performing well. Allco Equity Partners also announced the payment of a 37 cent dividend in August.

Goldlink IncomePlus Limited bounced back in August following the announcement that the portfolio has been completely unwound. At this stage the company is awaiting further information and reviewing proposals for Goldlink's future

Mariner Pipeline Income Fund continues to perform well, and the Officium Special Situations Fund reduced its exposure to this investment as prices increased in August.

NOTE: Due to the high concentration of RSG in this Fund, any purchase of new units in the Officium Special Situations Fund is effectively equivalent to investing circa 352 of your funds in Resolute Mining Limited (RSG) at current share prices, i.e. as at 31 August 2007, $1.42. Please be mindful of this when considering a new investment into the Officium Special Situations Fund or purchasing additional units in the Fund.

OFFICIUM SPECIAL SITUATIONS FUND

With a concentrated investment portfolio seeking to maximise medium-term gains, the Officium Special Situations Fund focuses on investing in the most attractive opportunities rather than diversifying investments across asset classes. The Special Situations Fund offers investors a unique approach to investing in the Australian share market.

The investment team uses a screening model to identify attractive investment opportunities. It then assesses the opportunity using qualitative and quantitative analysis, with an overriding value-oriented and fundamentals-based research process. This is enhanced by research visits and interviews with potential companies and projects throughout Australia. Once the research process is complete, opinions on each nominated investment opportunity are formulated and debated by the team before any decisions are made on investment levels and position limits.

Officium Capital's real difference lies in its highly developed understanding and execution of its value investing approach: Preservation of capital and principled investment decisions that minimise risk to achieve positive gains for investors over the medium to long term.

In periods of exceptionally strong equity market returns, Officium funds can, and in fact likely will, under-perform against the more traditional equity funds. In such an environment many assets become overvalued and this is when the downside risk from a more traditional investment approach is greatest. Our value investing helps preserve investor's capital, through seeking to achieve positive returns in all market conditions.

During downturns and times of negative market sentiment, the value investing approach moves into its element. Value opportunities emerge throughout the investment landscape. It is in these times that the cash typically held in reserve while the market is over-heated becomes a ready resource to invest in well-managed companies with an underlying capital value worth far more than the share price reflects.

In times of recession, value investing remains a superior investment strategy although the funds adopt key defensive characteristics in order to preserve client capital. In such an environment, it is likely that other investment and asset classes will under perform, representing large-scale value opportunities from which the largest gains are made during the next growth phase in the market. Investment and asset classes will under-perform, representing large-scale value opportunities from which the largest gains are made during the next growth phase in the market.

ABOUT THE FUND

The Officium Special Situations Fund is a unique Fund that seeks to uncover value in securities not well understood by the mainstream investment community. To take advantage of these misunderstandings, the Fund invests in a concentrated portfolio of Australian securities and financial products that are undervalued at the time of acquisition.

Managed by Officium's Chief Investment Officer, David Guy, investments made by the 'Special Sits' Fund are uncovered through a methodical and comprehensive process of analysis. The Fund invests into areas of the market overlooked or disregarded by other investors, including "fallen angels" (formerly well-regarded companies which have fallen on hard times), complicated securities, and under-researched or unfashionable securities or sectors.

The objective of the Fund is to provide positive returns over the long term (five years plus) by realising the value of a stock once it is better understood by, or back in favour with, the market. Both the concentrated and misunderstood nature of the Fund's intended investments means it is likely that the Fund will be very volatile and produce its returns independent of broader asset markets.
