

OFFICIUM SPECIAL SITUATIONS FUND

Share markets worldwide plummeted further in June on the back of record oil prices and continuing concern over the extent of the credit crisis. The Officium Special Situations Fund also fell, recording a return of -12.23% for the month, although monthly returns have been extremely volatile over the past year the Fund remains positive over the longer term, returning 8.73% per annum over the last three years. The Fund's major holdings were impacted by the large sell off in shares at the end of the financial year to lock in tax losses.

The Fund has been busy this month, topping up on existing holdings as share prices fell. In particular, Allco Equity Partners Limited (AEP) is continuing to be good value for money and the Fund increased its weighting to 12.47% . Trading at around $$1.70$, AEP is selling for just a little over its cash backing of $$1.46$, and in addition, the company also owns three quality assets, thus AEP is being significantly discounted by the market.

As mentioned in last month's report Equigold Limited shares have now been converted to Lihir Gold Limited (LGL) shares and LGL has rebounded following the trade to be up 30 cents over the month. During June both the Mariner Pipeline Income Fund and LinQ Resources Fund announced distributions of 5.37 and 23.75 cents, respectively, to be paid in August.

The Officium Special Situations Fund has provided an income distribution of 1.5 cents per unit to investors for the June quarter.

NOTE: Due to the high concentration of RSG in this Fund, any purchase of new units in the Officium Special Situations Fund is effectively equivalent to investing circa 45% of your funds in Resolute Mining Limited (RSG) at current share prices, i.e. as at 30 June 2008, $$1.92$. Please be mindful of this when considering a new investment into the Officium Special Situations Fund or purchasing additional units in the Fund.

OFFICIUM SPECIAL SITUATIONS FUND

With a concentrated investment portfolio seeking to maximise medium-term gains, the Officium Special Situations Fund focuses on investing in the most attractive opportunities rather than diversifying investments across asset classes. The Special Situations Fund offers investors a unique approach to investing in the Australian share market.

The investment team uses a screening model to identify attractive investment opportunities. It then assesses the opportunity using qualitative and quantitative analysis, with an overriding value-oriented and fundamentals-based research process. This is enhanced by research visits and interviews with potential companies and projects throughout Australia. Once the research process is complete, opinions on each nominated investment opportunity are formulated and debated by the team before any decisions are made on investment levels and position limits.

Officium Capital's real difference lies in its highly developed understanding and execution of its value investing approach: Preservation of capital and principled investment decisions that minimise risk to achieve positive gains for investors over the medium to long term.

In periods of exceptionally strong equity market returns, Officium funds can, and in fact likely will, under-perform against the more traditional equity funds. In such an environment many assets become overvalued and this is when the downside risk from a more traditional investment approach is greatest. Our value investing helps preserve investor's capital, through seeking to achieve positive returns in all market conditions.

During downturns and times of negative market sentiment, the value investing approach moves into its element. Value opportunities emerge throughout the investment landscape. It is in these times that the cash typically held in reserve while the market is over-heated becomes a ready resource to invest in well-managed companies with an underlying capital value worth far more than the share price reflects.

In times of recession, value investing remains a superior investment strategy although the funds adopt key defensive characteristics in order to preserve client capital. In such an environment, it is likely that other investment and asset classes will under perform, representing large-scale value opportunities from which the largest gains are made during the next growth phase in the market. Investment and asset classes will under-perform, representing large-scale value opportunities from which the largest gains are made during the next growth phase in the market.

ABOUT THE FUND

The Officium Special Situations Fund is a unique Fund that seeks to uncover value in securities not well understood by the mainstream investment community. To take advantage of these misunderstandings, the Fund invests in a concentrated portfolio of Australian securities and financial products that are undervalued at the time of acquisition.

Managed by Officium's Chief Investment Officer, David Guy, investments made by the 'Special Sits' Fund are uncovered through a methodical and comprehensive process of analysis. The Fund invests into areas of the market overlooked or disregarded by other investors, including "fallen angels" (formerly well-regarded companies which have fallen on hard times), complicated securities, and under-researched or unfashionable securities or sectors.

The objective of the Fund is to provide positive returns over the long term (five years plus) by realising the value of a stock once it is better understood by, or back in favour with, the market. Both the concentrated and misunderstood nature of the Fund's intended investments means it is likely that the Fund will be very volatile and produce its returns independent of broader asset markets.
